6th Grade BENTO BOX Project

Essential Questions:

- Who am I as an individual?
- What is my identity as a learner?
- What is important to me in my life?
- What aspects of my identity do I have in common with others?

Project Description:

As human beings, we are complex individuals. Often what others see may not paint the full picture of who we are, as we compartmentalize or hide portions of our identity. In this project, students will identify, explore, and reflect upon different aspects of their identity. Ultimately, students will create a beautiful representation of what makes them uniquely themselves, displaying all of the important compartments of their identity.

Final Product:

A visual representation of the student's identity through a compartmentalized Bento Box. All students will start with a Google Drawing template. Final products will be open to student interest, passion, creativity, and ambition.
